

Message: In the mist of the enemies

Bible Text: Psalms 118 verses 10- 14

Bible Reading: 1 Samuel 18 verses 8- 15

Strangely in the palace where people are supposed to have comfort, relief and even protection, the case of David was opposite, he was confronted with death and had to run for his life. We are looking at what is titled in the mist of the enemies. No matter the kind of personality you possessed you are in the mist of the enemies.

It is an invitation to untimely death for anyone to believe that his generosity will exclude or immune him from the attack of the enemies. Despite the generosity of David, he was still exposed to the danger of the enemies. Samson was the same as well but could not survive like David. David was right in the palace playing musical instrument for King Saul, yet his life was under threat of death.

I want you to pray violently like this

- Thou power of yesterday troubling my today scatter in the name of Jesus
- Oh God arise and end the pursuit of my enemies in tragedy upon their own heads in the name of Jesus
- Anger of the Lord disgrace all those wagging war against my destiny in the name of Jesus

Do not be deceived, enemies are everywhere, anywhere there is sugar there the ants will follow, anyone with a colourful destiny will surely attract the enemies, hear this, there is no place or areas where the enemies cannot operate, they are

- In families
- Workplace
- In churches or place of worship
- Among friends
- Within the nation
- In the communities
- In the team

In fact they can operate at all levels

How to escape from the mist of the enemies

- Be born again
- Living a righteous and holy life
- Be prayerful
- Have discerning spirit
- Have understanding of spiritual matters
- Be watchful
- Flee from every appearances of danger
